BRADSHAW CREEK MAY BE FILLED UP FOR HEALTH'S SAKE

Board Will Investigate Expediency and Instruct Owners.

Bad Odor and the Stagnant Waters Form Menace.

MEETING IN MAYOR'S OFFICE

At the board of health meeting in the mayor's office it was decided that the board will investigate the condition of Bradshaw creek and hollow through which the creek flows, and if the board thinks it can be done, the property owners will be ordered to make the fill. The creek is a nuisance to the citizens of the west end of the city and in the warm months of the summer the stagnant water causes a bad odor and is the cause of a great deal of sickness.

The ordinance committee will be asked to bring in an ordinance requiring the registration of all births in the city of babies, by filling out a certificate furnished by the city clerk.

Health Officer Dr. H. P. Sights was instructed to investigate the crowded conditions of the school and report back to the board at the next regular meeting.

The board made it a rule that the scavengers, working under the direction of the health officers must not do any work outside their assigned districts, and if they did do any work outside their assigned districts, their licenses will be taken from them and they will not be allowed to do business.

The quarterly report of the health officer and the monthly report were accepted and filed.

The members present were: Drs. C. H. Brothers, H. P. Sights, C. E. Kidd, L. D. Sanders and Attorney W. J. F. Bradshaw, Jr. and Mayor James P. Smith.

Thieves Stealing Off Lines.

"Gentle" thieves have begun operations again, and the police are warning the citizens to keep valuable garments off the lines in the rear yards. Several citizens have reported that quilts that have been placed out for air have disappeared mysteriously. Many housewives have placed winter garments out to sun, and nothing better could be wanted by any thief clad in thin summer clothes. The police are on the watch and will try to catch the thieves if the garments are offered for sale.

Will Increase the Forces.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—All the forces that the Democratic national committee can muster will be brought into action within the next two weeks to make a fight for the Democratic cause in Indiana and Ohio. National Chairman Mack and W. J. Bryan conferred on the situation in those states and dates for Mr. Bryan to speak in Indiana and Ohio will be arranged. It is further planned to send speakers of national prominence, including several United States senators, into the middle west to aid in the final fight for Mr. Bryan.

BASKETBALL TEAM WILL BE ORGANIZED BY THE ELKS.

Now that the baseball season is at an end the Elks have begun preparations for a basketball team that will be organized. Football will be passed up by the lodge. Goodman, Sutton, Robertson, Harberger, Williams and Farnham will be members of the team and no doubt other lodge members will show up for a tryout at the winter sport. It is the intention to organize early and by plenty of practice to be ready for any team in the state. The basketball season was a success, and a good balance was turned into the club's treasury.

STANDARD WAS NOT GRANTED SPECIAL FAVORS IN OKLA.

Washington, Oct. 8.—The Interior department denies the charge that the Standard Oil was given special privilege in the Oklahoma pipe line leases. Assistant Secretary Pierce conferred with the president and issued a statement. The president was right when he wrote Bryan that no preference or privilege was granted any company not granted all, and denied that the Hitchcock regulation of 1906 was ignored for the Standard's benefit.

Several Changes Are Made Within Organization of Dark Tobacco Men When the Annual Meeting is Held Paducah is Made Grading Point and Ed Miller Gets Position. While Some High Officers Lose Their Heads.

Paducah fared well in the election of officers and arrangement of handling association tobacco this year being made an official grading point and Ed Miller landing the nice place of chairman of the board of graders. The other grading points are Guthrie and Princeton. Hereafter all the tobacco has been graded at Guthrie, A. N. Veal, the efficient salesman at Paducah was re-elected.

One important change made by the board of directors was the abolishment of the general organization and Joel Fort and John M. Allen, who have held those positions, lose out.

John Jones was made salesman at Murray and L. E. Stevenson at Mayfield.

The county chairman of Western Kentucky, who are members of the board of directors, were here this afternoon en route to their homes. D. C. Reems, who represented Fulton county, John McKeage, McCracken county, J. S. Lawrence, Ballard and J. T. Daugherty, Graves county, spent the afternoon in Paducah visiting the local salesmen.

The chairman were enthusiastic over present prospects for a large sale of tobacco. Salesman Veal today sold about 500 hundred pounds to a Clarksville broker named Miller, the price ranging from 7 to 12 cents.

Guthrie, Ky., Oct. 8.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the Dark Tobacco Planters' Protective association the following officers were elected. President, Charles H. Fort, Adams, Tenn.; vice-president, J. W. Fisher, Mayfield, Ky.; general manager, Felix G. Ewing, Glasgow, Tenn.; auditor, John D. Seales, Guthrie, Ky.; general inspector, G. S. Dunlap, Wallonia, Ky.; treasurer, George Shadon, Guthrie, Ky.; secretary, N. E. Greene, Guthrie, Ky.; graders, eastern division, W. C. Warfield, Adams, Tenn.; middle division, J. O. Bell, Princeton, Ky.; western division, Ed Miller, Paducah, Ky.

SOCIALISM IN UNION.

Indianapolis, Oct. 8.—The retirement of Vice-President White of Iowa, and Secretary-Treasurer Ryan, of the United Mine Workers, is announced. It marks a crisis in the union's affairs because of the growth of socialism. John Walker, of Illinois, a Socialist leader, is nominated for president against Lewis. The latter, once considered radical, is now regarded as ultra-conservative, compared with Walker. The next convention promises a hot fight over Socialism. Many are urging Mitchell to seek reelection. He refuses on account of his health.

The following New Orleans dispatch tells of the meeting:

Since the Paducah fair Harry A. has had good luck and has come in for part of the money. Frank may be on the road for several months, racing in the south.

Politicians Busy

Workers of both parties are busy at the county court house today making copies of the registration books to be used in the campaign work. Several stenographers have been employed to assist in the work. The county clerk is also making certified copies of the books as required by law.

WEATHER.

Russellville, Ky., Oct. 8.—(Special.)—The jury in the case of Rufus Browder, a negro, charged with the murder of Cunningham, was unable to agree and was discharged.

The Courier-Journal says:

"The evidence closed at noon yesterday. Three arguments were made and the concluding speech was made to the jury at a night session."

"Browder testified that Cunningham assaulted him by striking him with a bit of iron and then drew his revolver, shooting him (Browder) in the breast; that Cunningham was about to fire a second time, when, in self-defense, he drew his pistol and fired upon Cunningham, killing him."

It was on account of this case that night riders took four negroes from the jail at Russellville and lynched them because they were charged with sympathizing with Browder.

HORNSBY CASE IS BEING ARGUED IN CRIMINAL COURT

Arguments were begun in the Hornsby assault case soon after court convened this afternoon and the case will go to the jury before adjourning time this afternoon. There is much speculation as to the nature of the verdict, many people predicting the death penalty will be inflicted.

Hornsby was on the stand in his own behalf this morning and made a complete denial of the charge against him, declaring he was at home asleep when the officers came to his house. A negro woman who lived in the house with him testified that Hornsby came home at 10 o'clock Saturday night and went to bed. She and another woman testified that Mr. Powell stated after Hornsby was arrested that he was in doubt about him being the right man.

This Powell denied on rebuttal, however, and the officers present declaring that they were positive the right man had been arrested. The officers said Powell described Hornsby and the shirt he wore in detail before the arrest was made.

Attorneys Eugene Graves and Addison Clay will argue the case for the defense and attorneys Barkley and Lovett for the prosecution.

The wheels of justice went around in a hurry yesterday afternoon when the case was finally taken up. After the work of empanelling a jury had begun, Attorney John G. Miller, for the defense, entered a demurrer to the indictment on technical grounds. Judge Reed sustained the demurrer and ordered the case resubmitted to the grand jury. Just fifteen minutes later the grand jury filed into the court room, bringing an indictment that complied with the requirements of the statute.

The case was taken up again and the following jurymen qualified and were accepted:

C. Bidwell, W. L. Lamb, J. H. Watson, Alonzo Miller, Sam Burkhardt, Ed Overstreet, John Dedrich, W. T. Boyd, N. M. McGill, L. B. Langston and O. B. Rudolph from the regular jurymen, and S. H. Pryor from the bystanders.

Nita Powell, the child victim, was the first witness called and told her story of the assault, positively identifying Hornsby as the assailant on direct testimony. On cross-examination she stated that in the dim light she could not tell whether the man had a beard or not and could not distinguish his features, but she said that the outline and size of Hornsby was the same as her assailant. She felt a stinging mustache on her face like that Hornsby wears. The negro was undressed except for a shirt.

A. L. Powell, father of the girl, told of being awakened by his wife and he saw the negro run from the room. He followed and chased the negro out of the yard. He identified Hornsby as being the man. He said he thought he could see a patch on the negro's shirt as he ran, and when Hornsby was arrested Hornsby wore a shirt wrapped around the neck of the neck of which looked like a patch.

Mrs. Powell testified to being awakened by her daughter's screams. She called her husband and saw the negro creep out of the room. She told of her daughter's condition next day and of calling a physician. Both Mr. and Mrs. Powell were sleeping in the room with the little girl. Mrs. Powell did not see the man well enough to identify him, except that she thought he wore only a shirt.

Dr. Rivers told of the extent of the little girl's injuries.

Pollockman Doyle, who made the arrest, said that he was searching the alley in the rear of the Powell home when he went to Hornsby's house and rapped. The negro came to the door dressed in a shirt. He denied having been out that night. The officer thought his appearance indicated that he had been awake sometime.

He examined his feet and found clinders sticking to the sole of one foot and a sprig of grass between the toes of one foot.

Next week both teams will have practice every night so that they will be in the best of condition for what is said to be the biggest football game ever played in Paducah.

BORING FOR OIL NEAR BROOKPORT WITH HIGH HOPES

For the purpose of boring for oil a large consignment of well drilling machinery has been unloaded at Brookport and work will begin immediately on the large Ridenhauer farm, which is directly across the Ohio river from Paducah, about four miles back. For several years it has been suspected that the soil has oil under it, but practically nothing has been done to investigate.

Many of the wells have been drilled to any considerable depth have had an oily surface, and much of the water has been unfit for drinking purposes. This aroused interest, and this summer experts were secured by Aaron McCrory, of Brookport, and Mr. Ridenhauer, owner of the farm, to make an investigation. The experts believe that oil was to be had, and the promoters have gone to considerable expense to secure machinery for drilling the wells, and to get well drillers.

The machinery arrived at Brookport two days ago, and the promoters are moving it to the suspected oil fields to begin operations at once. Should oil be discovered in paying quantities the value to Paducah would be incalculable.

NEW YORK CRAZY TO GET INTO GAME AT POLO GROUNDS

J. J. HILLS SAYS WATER AND RAIL- WAYS BOTH GOOD

Work Side by Side to Develop Country Must be Systematic Is Extension.

Bryan and Pinchot Speak Before Convention.

DEEP WATERWAYS MEETING

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Bryan and Gifford Pinchot, government forester, were the chief speakers at the waterways convention. Congressman Hainey, of Illinois, read a paper by James J. Hill, of the Great Northern railway, who declared railways and waterways must work together to develop the country.

They must prepare the waterways carefully and get trunk lines first, then extensions. He severely criticized legislation against railroads at a time when they need encouragement. Pinchot urged the waterways as part of the conservation program. Waterways, inland development and forest preservation are single problems.

Meet as Old Friends.

Misses Bryan and Taft, the rival candidates, met here at the fourth annual banquet of the Chicago association of commerce. The meeting is said to have been the first of its kind since the Lincoln and Douglas campaign preceding the Civil war.

Intense interest has been manifested since it first became known that the two candidates were to meet in public and every seat in the banquet hall and auditorium, thrown together for the occasion, was occupied when the first course was served, save only the chair reserved for Taft. An ear-splitting shout gave a warning of the arrival of Taft. The dramatic moment which had been anticipated with such deep interest was soon over. Bryan's hand awaited that of Taft. A single lingering pressure, a word or so which none could overhear because of the hubbub, and the Republican leader passed on to the chair at the right of the hall. The cheering continued for a minute or so after those at the speaker's table had taken their seats.

At the first moment the noise subsided. Bryan leaning to one side and smiling broadly asked Taft if he had "Had a good day?" This display of friendliness on the part of the two candidates stirred the crowd to renewed cheering and words being useless in the din Taft stroked his throat for answer. Then Taft laughed and the applause increased.

"What is the matter with Bill?" cried some one.

"He's all right."

"Who's all right?"

"Bill's all right," was the response.

It took music by the orchestra and songs by the guests to restore a semblance of quiet. When talking in ordinary tones became possible, the two candidates entered into an animated conversation, in which President Hall joined.

The speeches of both Taft and Bryan were non-partisan, but appropriate to the occasion. Each aroused applause by their words.

Fights in Home.

When Joe Johnson, colored, walked home last night his wife, Lola Johnson, refused to let him in, and he declared that James Jamieson was paying attentions to his wife. Anyhow, Johnson knocked at the door and there was a scattering. Jamieson ran out the rear door. So much noise was raised that Patrolmen Wood and Gilliam, Truant Officer Jack Nelson and County Judge Lightfoot ended the disturbance. In police court Joe Johnson was dismissed, but Lola Johnson and Jamieson were fined $30 and costs each.

HERPICIDE'S MISSION.

It Takes Away the Dread of Birth-days.

Nothing is more annoying to men and women of middle age than to see those unmistakable signs of age—this hair add grayness—approaching. But science has discovered that these conditions are no longer, "unmistakable" evidences of old age, for the dandruff germ theory proves that even very young people may suffer hair loss, while those fortunate enough to escape the ravages of the scalp germ, retain their abundant locks to a ripe old age. Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ and removes the risk of appearing old before your time. Save your hair and your feelings, by using the genuine Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. H. W. Walker & Co., Special Agents.

STEALING CLOTHES

CHARGE MADE AGAINST YOUNG MAN IN COURT.

Herbert Edwards Held Over to Grand Jury on Evidence of the Complaintants.

For the alleged stealing of a suit of clothes, Herbert Edwards, a young white fellow, was held over to the grand jury this morning in police court. It is alleged that the package of clothes was stolen from Jesse and Hattie Childress, young farmers from Reel.

Jesse and Hattie Childress allege that they left a horse and buggy in front of a house at Eighth and Flinley streets and entered the home. The suit of clothes was left in the buggy. In a few minutes Edwards is said to have run into the house and exclaimed that the horse had run away. Near the corner the horse had stopped and the suit of clothes was missing. Patrolmen Ringland and Prince were on the job and found the suit of clothes in the possession of Edwards.

NO REST PLANNED FOR JUDGE TAFT

He Will Keep Up the Running Fight to the Last.

Kentucky, Maryland and Number of Eastern States Are to Be Visited.

HAS NO MORE WESTERN TRIPS.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Announcement was made by National Chairman Hitchcock on his arrival here from the east that Mr. Taft would remain on the stump until the close of the campaign. The itinerary of Mr. Taft's next tour, which will start next week, has not been finally determined, but will probably take the Republican candidate for one or two days in each of the following states:

Kentucky, Tennessee, Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia, Maryland, New Jersey, New York and Connecticut. Mr. Taft will make no more trips through the west. Mr. Hitchcock said he did not know whether President Roosevelt would take the stump or not, as he had no information regarding the matter.

It was announced at headquarters by Mr. Hitchcock that Mr. Sherman would remain in the east during the rest of the campaign, and that beginning October 10 Vice President Fairbanks would speak through the eastern states.

Mr. Fairbanks will speak in Wilmington, Del., on October 19; in New Jersey on October 12 and 13; in New York October 14 to 17; one day in Connecticut and two or three days in Ohio and Indiana.

Mr. Hitchcock said that Senators La Follette and Smith will be left in the west to carry on the fight, and that Secretaries Root and Strauss would aid Mr. Taft in the east on the stump. The chairman said that the Republican party in the west had shown such a degree of vitality that the organization did not need the personal direction that he first intended to give it. He said he would return to New York on Thursday. Mr. Hitchcock declared that Taft and Hughes would carry New York. Regarding Treasurer Sheldon's visit to Washington, Mr. Hitchcock said that this was at the president's initiative, and that Mr. Sheldon desired to tell the president some of the difficulties which he is experiencing in the collection of campaign funds. The chairman said that the collection of funds in the east, through the organization of committees, had taken up more of his time than he intended to spend in this work.

FRIDAY SPECIAL

Boy's All Wool Suits 99 Cents

BE just as critical, just as skeptical, just as sharp-eyed as you please when you come to investigate these suits. Try one on the boy, then turn and twist it into all sorts of poses and attitudes; pull it out of shape—if you think you can. Then note the workmanship in every seam and you'll find it without a flaw. As to style, these suits are made in the very latest, with the belted effect, fancy buttons and bloomer pants.

Quality, why they are absolutely every thread wool, and the material alone is worth more than ninety-nine cents, without figuring on the cost of buttons, workmanship and the trimmings. The materials are of fashion's latest patterns, and are usually sold for three and four dollars the suit.

Now all we want you to do is come and be the judge, if they're not the biggest bargain you ever saw, don't buy.

Sizes 3 years to 9 years

EXTRA INDUCEMENT

We will give you a special reduction on any boys' suit we have in our store, if bought Friday. So don't confuse our Friday's specials with the many fake bargains so often advertised and never gotten, for we advertise what we sell, and sell what we advertise.

Captain Hines Barnes, of Golconda, is in the city on business.

The towboat Egan, of the West Kentucky Coal company's fleet, of this city, while on her way from Cairo to Grand Tower with a tow of eight empty barges, struck a snag just out from Bird's Point, Mo., and sank in six feet of water in 15 minutes.

Capt. Floyd Burris was in charge of the Egan. The Egan was brought down through what seemed to be the same channel about a half hour before she struck the snag. The snag was under the water and after hitting it she immediately began tilting toward the shore but went to the bottom just a short distance from shore on a sand bar. All the crew got off the boat without injury. There is not any current where the boat sank and today divers were sent over to the Egan to patch up the hole in her hull and she will be raised immediately. The hole was knocked in the starboard side of the hull under the smoke stack. The towboat Egan had just been repaired at Paducah and had just been put in fine condition. The damage done will not be known until the boat is raised and she can be inspected.

City Jail Depleted.
City Jailor Wade Brown is considering advertising for boarders as the city prison is almost vacant and the chain gang is depleted. Yesterday Jailor Brown had four prisoners and two of these were sick, so that the chain gang had two men. Last night the police pulled in three offenders, and this increased the number of prisoners to seven. If the weather continues cool, however, there is no doubt but what a few of the offenders will try the scheme of having themselves sentenced during the cold months.

So many people scattered all over the American Continent have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines that there's scarcely a hamlet where some of these grateful people are not to be easily found—ever ready to say a good word for the medicines which cured them and which very likely may cure you, if similarly afflicted. Look them up. They are walking advertisements for Dr. Pierce's medicines—ever ready to pass the good news along that these medicines cure when many others fail. Little advertised NOW, because their record of 40 years of cures makes great displays of their merits unnecessary. The great American people pretty generally know of their unequalled record.

REPUBLICANS HAD TO BE STIRRED UP

Good Scare Aroused Them by October 1 as Usual.

Bryan Has Just as He Did in 1896 and 1900 and Then Gave Out.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE RIGHT

New York, Oct. 8.—Calculations based upon knowledge given by close observation of William J. Bryan's tactics in his two previous dashes for the presidential stakes enabled the Republican managers to prophesy, as they did among themselves, that the beginning of October would find the relative positions of Mr. Taft and Mr. Bryan in the political firmament exactly as they are today, with Mr. Taft gaining ground steadily as Mr. Bryan loses.

Mr. Bryan has repeated once more, he virtually shot his bolt by October 1 in 1896 and again in 1900. He is not a faster. In the vernacular of the trotting track, he is a "quarter horse." He gets off ahead at the drop of the flag, trots like a machine, around the first turn, breaks on the back stretch and falls behind, while his antagonist keeps to his stride and finishes strong, with Mr. Bryan galloping, instead of trotting, scores of yards in the rear.

When Chairman Hitchcock and his associates planned the campaign two months ago there was one element that they knew they had to contend with. That was Republican apathy, over-confidence based upon the evident belief of the voters that there could be no possible question of Mr. Taft winning over Mr. Bryan. There was no question but that a majority of the Republican electors, when they heard that Mr. Taft had been nominated, and that Mr. Bryan was to be his antagonist, settled back contentedly, quite satisfied that they would do their full duty by turning up at the polls on election day and voting the Republican ticket. The leaders also took into consideration that this flatness to a great extent would be neutralized by Mr. Bryan himself. The thing which worried them was the possibility that Mr. Bryan would abandon his usual habit, and instead of taking the stump as actively as had been his wont, would conduct his campaign from Lincoln. If he began to travel and talk as freely as he did in 1896 and 1900, they figured that fear of the old ghost of Bryanism and what it represents in principles of erratic and untried government policies would scare the Republicans and beat them to action.

Fighting Spirit of Republicans Aroused.

All this came to pass. No more eloquent, spectacular and, for the nonce, convincing political exhortation than Mr. Bryan ever attained to prime importance in national politics. He possesses the gift above all men now in public life of inspiring temporary enthusiasm and saying things that sound well and look equally well in print. From a news standpoint alone Mr. Bryan cannot be ignored, even by the opposition press. When a Republican, no matter how confident he may be of his candidate's election, picks up his paper day after day and reads of the castorings of Mr. Bryan, how he speaks powerfully and tirelessly fifteen or twenty times between dawn and dusk, covering hundreds of miles, being listened to by big audiences, he is bound to feel doubts rise within him. It is an old political truism that if you can get Republicans thoroughly scared they'll take off their coats and work like sixty. That is what is happening now. The Republicans, the rank and file of the party, had up to within ten days even worse attacks of Bryanitis than when Bryan was, in prospect, sweeping state after state into his train, in the late summer eight and twelve years ago. Now, as a Republican senator from the middle west who called at headquarters today, expressed it, "they're up and dusting like a jack rabbit with a hound dog three jumps behind."

The scare is over now. Mr. Taft began to turn the tide before he had been twenty-four hours out on his campaign tour. The people like to be "shown." They want to see the man for whom they are going to vote, to study him at close range, to size him up face to face and hear if he measures up to their personal standard of what a presidential candidate ought to be. And if they like him, as everyone does who sees and hears Mr. Taft, and if he has the ability to deal out to them plain, simple, sensible, copper-bottomed Republican doctrine, as Mr. Taft does, without specious tricks of oratory or spreading false demonstrations, they go back home with their faith renewed and determined to win over to their side every man they can get hold of.

Taft Has Made Good.

Daily reports are coming to headquarters of the deep and favorable impressions created by Mr. Taft wherever he has spoken. In Ohio, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and the other states where he has traveled. The effect of his presence and the recession of the Bryan wave is shown by the change in the tenor of the statements given out from the Democratic national headquarters and by the gossip which drifts into the corridors of the Hoffman House from Chairman Mack's office. They are fifty per cent less optimistic since Mr. Taft leaped into the saddle. Even their claims of a Bryan victory in New York are less assured in tone. They also realize that, no matter how energetically they may toll to carry the Empire state, all that they can do is sure to be undone when Mr. Taft comes down through the cities and counties lying between Buffalo and New York in the final week of the campaign.

If the Republican scare hadn't developed there would be a worried lot of men at No. 1 Madison avenue, instead of letting Mr. Bryan remove the incubus of apathy they would have to pitch in, and with the aid of the state committees, do it themselves. While they are appropriately grateful to Mr. Bryan they do not intend to allow this sentiment to move them into rendering his defeat less complete and overwhelming than it has been before. But they are working away with a sure confidence in the victory that will come to Republican arms in November. It is no uphill fight that they are waging.

Attitude of the Farmers. One of the infallible indices to political conditions is supplied by the attitude and opinions of the farmers. If a politician wants to know how a state in which the farmers vote is a factor in going, he has to get back to the soil. Especial care has been taken to sound sentiment among the farmers in half a dozen states, including New York, Wisconsin, Minnesota and North Dakota. The farmers are prosperous and contented. They are keenly alive to the importance of the trust and railroad regulating activities of Mr. Roosevelt and what it means to the tillers of the land. They approve of them, and they know that Mr. Taft can be depended upon to lead his influence wisely and conservatively, but effectively, to the same end.

"There is no use in trying to make a farmer believe that the country is going to the dogs and a change of administration is needed, when he has money in the bank, no mortgage on his place and possibly a few hundreds out on interest," said a man today who has traveled much of the middle west. "They aren't responding to Mr. Bryan's pleas, and they don't sympathize with his ideas. They are sure that they owe their prosperity to McKinley, Roosevelt and the Republican party, and they are satisfied to let things run on as they are. Why, I heard of one farming section not far from Chicago where among 6,000 persons there were forty-two automobile owners. What reason have these folks for taking a chance politically by voting for Bryan, the untried theorist, against Taft?"

MISSION OF A TINY FISH.

To Destroy Mosquito Eggs and Save Inhabitants of Malarial Regions.

C. Kenrick Gibbons has discovered that all the pools and swamps in Barbados are stocked with swarms of millions, a tiny fish which gets its name from its vast numbers and which feeds on the larvae of the mosquito.

Some specimens have been got to England successfully and flourished there in the insect house at the zoological gardens. Mr. Gibbons has proposed that the millions be imported into malarial districts, and his suggestion has been acted upon with happy results. The health board of Anigua, another island, being convinced of the useful part played by these fish in consuming mosquito larvae, has arranged for their systematic distribution throughout the ponds and streams of the island.

Like tidings come from Jamaica, whither a consignment of the fish was sent not long ago. The secretary of the agricultural society there writes that the tanks at a certain hotel are full of them and that he has been informed that there has been a marked diminution of fever round about, the millions evidently accounting for the mosquito larvae. They have also been sent to Colon and British Guiana. It is suggested that these useful fish get a trial in the malarial regions of Africa, if, like the malarial mosquito, the insects which carry the terrible diseases which are epidemic there pass the larval stage of their existence in water.

The Swedish consul at Frankfurt has discovered another small fish named the blue-eyed which feeds on mosquito larvae. At the request of the Italian government some are to be sent to the Campagna, where so much has been done in recent years to diminish malaria.—Chicago Tribune.

THE VIVISECTION OF TURKEY

New Constitution Only a Plaster to Hide and Heal Serious Wounds.

It will be remembered that Turkey actually had a constitution once. It was drafted by Midhat Pasha, and proclaimed by the sultan, Selimgue sultan in November, 1876, two months after he had attained the throne through deposition of Murad V., who is declared by some people to be still living in close imprisonment and who was the present sultan's oldest brother, but it was nullified soon afterward, and it cannot be said ever to have gone into operation otherwise than theoretically. It is this constitution which, with some modifications, has now been revised and which the newly appointed grand vizier has been instructed to bring into effect. It is surprising that the sultan should have yielded so readily and rapidly to the demands of the potential revolutionists, by their failure to move promptly on Constantinople and to assume the aggressive they have allowed time for the concentration of the Anatolian army, and the sultan has attained a position enabling him to crush the incipient mutiny by force. Apparently he did not think that this would be a safe proceeding, and it may be assumed from the pacificator tactics which he has pursued that the movement inaugurated by the young Turkish party must be more far-reaching and formidable than had been realized.

More than likely the sultan, who is a wily old fox, with no respect whatever for any considerations of ve-

He may calculate on pursuing a policy with regard to the new constitution similar to that adopted by the czar, but if so he should take a lesson from the painful experience of the shah, whose persistent attempt at the modification of the charter granted by his predecessor came near costing him and may cost him—his throne, if not his life. He may be sure his people would never submit to any such deception.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"OUT, DAMNED SPOTS!"

Celebrated Persons in Police Court.

"Daniel Webster, John Adams, George Washington!"

There is a craning of necks when these historical names are called in police court, and laughter at the odd specimens of humanity who answer to them.

On the police court docket there is seldom a week passes without the name of some famous person being called in that tribunal. Usually the offense charged is a minor one such as getting drunk or fighting, and the punishment is usually light. The names of the celebrities range from presidents of the United States to leading footlight stars. Many of the disturbers, who bear the distinguished names, are well known to the police, and they say that they have never been known by another name.

Among those on the police docket the past few months are: "Daniel Webster," "John Adams," "William Henry Harrison," "Winston Churchill," "John Smith," "George Washington," "Lincoln," "Bill Ryan," "Robert Lee" and other great men have had their names appear on the docket regularly, and almost in every case a fine has been paid or a fine "laid out" in jail.

"Dan Webster" was arrested a short time ago for a breach of peace. Instead of pleasing the public, his argument disturbed the peace of the city that a kind policeman walked him to the hall. In vain did he appeal to the patrolman, but his eloquence and logic brought naught as far as his bluecoated friend was concerned.

"Lillian Russell" had to face the tribunal on a charge of breach of the peace. The great Lillian failed to hide by the applause of the audience and raised so much noise herself that she enjoyed a ride to the police station and was tossed a fine instead of a bunch of flowers by the judge.

"John Smith" is quite a common character in the police court, and there are several that have responded to that name. Instead of fighting the Indian, the great fault with his name, is that he fights booze, and the motto of the settler, "He who does not work shall not eat," has been followed out by the court of justice.

Much laughter is caused in the court room when the name of some celebrated person is called. The jailers have become accustomed to calling the distinguished, and when a warrant is issued with the name of a famous person the police know in just what class of persons to find the accused.

NIGHT RIDER ISSUE

BIG CROWD HEARDS STANLEY AND WORSHAM.

Debate the Question at Henderson and Some Ugly Charges Are Made.

Henderson, Ky., Oct. 8.—Five thousand people heard the joint debate on the night rider issue between John C. Worsham, the Republican nominee for congress, and A. O. Stanley, the present Democratic congressman and nominee in the second district. It was clearly a Stanley crowd, but Worsham was given good attention.

The Hon. Malcolm Yeaman presided as chairman of the meeting and introduced the speakers. Mr. Worsham spoke first, consuming about an hour and a quarter, during which he reiterated practically the same statement made in his Hawesville speech of a few weeks ago. He read extensively from Collier's, the Courier-Journal, the Hopkinsville New Era and Kentuckian as well as from both local papers. He strongly censured Stanley, upon whom he laid the blame of nearly all the outrages in this part of the state, citing particularly the speeches made at Cynthiana, Hopkinsville and Sturgis.

Residence of H. H. Garrett, 1014 Harrison Street, In a Blaze.

The home of H. H. Garrett, 1014 Harrison street, was damaged by fire last night about midnight, but the loss will not amount to over $400. The fire was discovered and a telephone alarm sent to the fire department. Fire company No. 3 and the truck from No. 4 station responded. The firemen did a quick job on the fire, and the roof over the kitchen and dining room was damaged. The fire boys had a long run, but extinguished the blaze in fifteen minutes. The family says that the fire started from a can of gasoline which was in the kitchen.

I'm Telling You.

Pat Murphy, who was in lodgings, was greatly annoyed by the landlady helping herself to his provisions. She began by taking a piece of his butter, and when Pat came home she said: "Pat, I'm taking a little of your butter, but I'm not like the other landladies—I'm telling you." Next day it was an egg, and so on. Every day there was something taken and put off with the remark, "I'm not like other landladies—I'm telling you."

Of course there was never any redemption in Pat's bill. One Saturday his bill came to a larger amount than usual. Pat looked at it, bundled up a few things in his handkerchief, walked to the door and said:

"Landlady, I'm sleeping. I'm not like other lodgers—I'm telling you."—London Answers.
